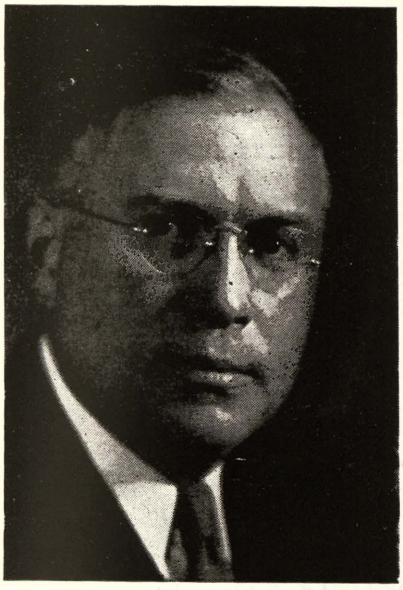
Foreword

In this twenty-fifth anniversary year of South School, we, the editoral and mechanical staffs, take great pleasure in presenting to you the 1947 S-I-S BOOM Annual. In years to come we hope this book will help to recall pleasant memories of your years at South.

We take great pleasure in dedicating this 1947 annual to Katherine Kelley, assistant principal, in recognition of her splendid work and outstanding contributions during the ten years she has served South School.



CHESTER F. MILLER
Superintendent

MAURICE M. GUY
Principal

It is with pleasure that I extend to the South School, greetings and congratulations on this, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the School. The School has more than measured up to my expectations of excellent growth, both in the quality and standards of its work as well as in building and enrollment.

South, as it should be, is now truly the center of all types of community activities for this section of the city. If the first twenty-five years of progress is any criteria, the South School of the future will be the greatest of all South Schools.

9A Banquet

On May 15 the annual 9A class banquet was held in the girls' gym. "Silver Linings" was the theme used for this year's program. Susan Toshach, the forecaster, introduced the following speakers: Jerry Lake, Jack Arndt, Roland Trogan, Catherine McBain, Glen Hoernlein, Ruth Paetz.

A gypsy folk song, "Two Guitars," was played by the string ensemble and the harmonettes sang "The Green Cathedral" by Hahn.

Jeanne Ittner gave a brief resume of academic work and Don Pietz reported on "The class of 1947".

Bill Rooker and Dave Holland entertained with a trumpet duet, "Star Dust." The Barbershop Quartet sang "Margie."

Honored guests who spoke included Superintendent Chester F. Miller, principals I. M. Brock, Floyd Allen, Stephen H. Lyttle and Maurice M. Guy.

The general chairman for the program was Mrs. Miner, class adviser. Mrs. Harold Schaubel served as general chairman for the banquet, assisted by Mrs. Eugene Ippel and Mrs. Harold Young, co-chairman for the dinning room, and Mrs. Frank Arndt kitchen chairman.

Twenty-fifth Anniversary

"WEST FORTY" BEFORE THE TUNNEL WAS BUILT

Twenty-fifth Anniversary

For many years South Intermediate School has stood as a symbol of education for the thousands of students who have passed through her doors. These same doors were opened September 1922 for the first time and now in this present year, 1947, her doors are still welcoming the thousands who throng her halls. Families living around the school have watched her growth in strength and spirit.

The old familiar statue, Joan of Arc, which was presented by the first graduating class, still stands as a token of that memorable occasion. The huge pedestal on which Joan rests was given to the school by the graduating class of 1924.

The first annual was published in 1927, and since that time it has been the privilege of the journalism staff to publish this book.

The first orchestra pictured in the 1927 annual consisted of six violins, three cornets, cello, saxaphone, trombone, piano, and drums. Mr. Heimburger directed the band and informs us that it was the first school band in Saginaw county. The Harmonica Band also was started in the fall of 1927 and played for the P.T.A. meetings.

In early years operettas were the main attraction in the vocal music groups. The operetta, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," the pageant, "Shut up Posy," and the 9A play, "Charm School" were among the activities of the school during the year 1927.

Every school is proud of its clubs; South School has had many of these organizations during the past twenty-five years, for example, The Checker Club, Radio Club, Stamp Club, and the Booster Club.

In 1930 an addition was added to the building. This new elementary unit completed the immense educational building.

In 1932 the first Spendless and Seemore Circus was presented by South School. This first "King of School Shows" consisted entirely of pupil acts.

The Booster Club, a pioneer student participation organization, began in early years and for many years functioned as an important part of the school. The Presidents' Council, Monitor Staff, and Safety Patrol have replaced this organization.

The Dramatic Club was first formed in 1940; this club was organized for the purpose of giving an opportunity to persons having talent in the field of the drama.

When World War number II broke out, many of South School's faculty answered the call of their country. Those who left for duty were: William Somerville, Lester Eyer, Floyd Byron, Geneva Switzer, Lyle Shumate, Alta McDermott, Margaret DeKiep, Geraldine Swarthout.

South School, like all other schools of the nation, gladly did its part in our country's war effort. When called upon to raise war bond funds, South went over the top. For the scrap drive in 1943 our school collected a total of 62,174 pounds which was an average of 50 pounds per person. The proceeds from this scrap drive amounted to $108.69 and was turned over to the Junior Red Cross. The total contribution of the Junior Red Cross from 1943 to 1946 were $1,959.70. We are especially proud that our school has led all public and parochial schools in

No anniversary issue would be complete without word from the principals who have watched South grow and develop. We wrote to each of these men and asked them to tell us some of their memories of their days at South. We quote directly from their letters.

Richard M. Johnson, principal, 1922-1923. Present position: English department head, Cass Technical High School, Detroit.

"As the principal of John Moore School, I had watched the South Intermediate under construction from the basement upward; and hoping that I might be appointed principal of the school, I was greatly interested in its plans, equipment, and in the community it was to serve. When I was definitely assigned to South, Mr. Bradshaw (then principal of the Jerome School who was at the same time appointed to North Intermediate) and I were given the privilege of designing certain furniture for the classrooms, (such as the table-desks), forms for child-accounting (such as the report cards).

Beyond that stage of early cooperation, there was considerable rivalry between us for the selection of faculty, and installation of equipment. Our contentions must have proved quite a strain for Wallis Craig Smith, then of the Board of Education, who gave much of his personal time to the development of the two schools. I shall never forget his devotion to civic duty, nor my arguments with him for South's rights.

We had a grand school spirit at South in those days that imbued the students, the faculty, and the community. The building was open day and night for all kinds of activities.

On Friday evenings, as many as a thousand folks would regularly gather in the auditorium for programs of movies, amateur theatricals and vaudeville, musicals, etc. The Parent-Teachers, Association (then led by Mrs. Harker Jackson) sponsored these affairs, and they were entertaining!

Our athletic teams were unusually good for their ages. South's laurels were many. And we all had fun!

I remember an old "German Band" that was directed by Messrs. Heimburger and Haist (both of these men are still somewhere about Saginaw in educational service) that used to play for our "street parades." Proceeds purchased a statue of Joan of Arc which in my day graced the main lobby, costumed the athletic teams, and bought pictures for the new halls.

I remember that we moved into the building before the workmen had finished floors, and the halls were noisy and dusty with the terrazzo grinders. Too, the linoleum classroom floors had yet to be varnished. This was completed week-ends, after which one lifting the tables brought up big gobs of cork. I suppose the scars still show."

Guy Goddard, principal, 1923-1925. Present position: Owner Goddard Book Stores, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

"After serving as principal in four other schools I took the South Intermediate position in September 1923. And now, after almost twenty-four years I recall how delighted I was at the wonderful new building, the ample staff of thirty-two teachers, the well behaved 700 pupils, and a school spirit unequaled for its loyalty and enthusiasm. Most of us at South Intermediate were enjoying for the first time in our lives such new things as school cafeteria, school picture shows, school printshop, and thanks to Mr. Fultz of the metal shop, we were having our very first experience with radios. Mrs. Starkweather was our P. T. A. president. She helped us to get uniforms for the school band. We were so proud of the uniforms, really nothing more than a cape and an overseas cap, that we planned an all-school parade, but the school board discouraged such overwhelming exuberance.

In November 1925 I was shifted to the position of Boy Scout Executive in Saginaw, and Mr. Brock proved to be a very happy choice as my successor at South Intermediate.

From Saginaw I came directly to Oklahoma City. In Oklahoma pupils have to buy everything that they use in school, including text books. None of the stores were giving enough attention to school needs. Since then I have been a storekeeper catering to the pupils and teachers. The store has grown. On one day last fall we had 4600 customers."

I. M. Brock, principal, 1925-1929. Present position: Principal, Arthur Hill High School, Saginaw.

"Nothing could please a former principal more than to be asked to talk about the days when he was at South. How well I recall The Biggest Show in the World for a Dime, The West Forty, the first championship volleyball team and the red topped boots, the slogan contest which produced Service, Industry, and Sportsmanship, the first 9A Banquet, the S pins and Honor pins, and that graduating class of June, '29 which was the first to sing O School of Mine at a 9A Assembly.

Then, there were the dozens of teachers whose friendships I cherish, and the hundreds of youngsters I enjoyed so much—many of whom I still see occasionally. Those were wonderful days at old S. I. S. Naturally not so wonderful as those which followed, but still too good to forget."

Maurice M. Guy, principal, 1929 ---.

The privilege and honor of being principal of South for eighteen of its twenty five years existence tempts me to use much more than the space alloted me for this article.

It was early in April 1929 when I was informed that I was to succeed Mr. Brock as principal and I can still recall the thrill of anticipation I experienced with that announcement.

Many changes have occurred since that time. The West Forty had a fence only on the Elm street side, there were no tennis courts, and the tunnel was not thought of at that time. Only a few elementary pupils were here and they were housed in what is now the music room 210, the men's rest room 222, and the visual education room 220. During the fall and early winter the new elementary rooms took shape and our first kindergarten was opened at mid year in one of the rooms while the other rooms were still being finished.The next fall all eleven rooms were completed and ready to use.

There had been instrumental music classes for one year but the first band and orchestra to be scheduled during school time started in my first year 1929-30.

The sixth grade was then a part of our junior high organization and we had mid year graduation and new pupils entered each semester.

1932 saw the premiere showing of "The King of School Shows" when the "Spendless and Seemore Circus" came to town.

Many honors have come to South down through the years and it is impossible to mention them individually.

I can easily recall the marvelous contributions of our rooms back during the days that we gave baskets at Christmas time. Certainly no school could give more generously. In recent years this has been replaced with the magnificent giving to the American Junior Red Cross in which South has held first place each year. Our winning athletic teams including our unequalled record in volleyball have brought distinction to our school.

The great host of fine pupils, teachers and parents that I have been privileged to work with these many years have given real meaning to the words of our school song when we sing—'You're the best place in the world oh, school of mine.'"

9A Assembly

On June 10 the 9A's gathered in the school auditorium for the traditional 9A assembly. Reverend Herbert Hall, pastor of the Michigan Avenue Baptist Church, was the guest speaker. All the eighth grade classes who were guests of the graduating class were seyted in the auditorium when the ninth graders marched in. Everyone joined in the singing of the school songs.

Music on the program included the mixed chorus singing "The Heav'ns Resounding" by Beethoven-Christiansen and "To Thee We Sing" by Tkach; "Sixth Hungarian Dance" by Brahms, a violin solo played by Donald Butts; a violin trio composed of Pat Dengler, Joan Tessin, and Don Butts playing Toselli's Serenade.

The 9A class will was presented; Miss Gibbs was in charge of this part of the program. Nancy Luttenbacher and Martha Donnelly were featured in a skit which presented the class prophecy. Miss Waytellia sponsored this group.

Mrs. Miner, class adviser, was general chairman for the assembly with Miss Giere and Mr. Shumate in charge of the music.

Twenty-fifth Anniversary

Junior Red Cross contributions for the last three years.

Under the supervision of various teachers, articles of clothing, ashtrays, jigsaw puzzles, cribbage boards, writing portfolios, menu cards and Red Cross bags were made and donated to the American Red Cross to be distributed among hospitals and rest camps. South School has done a job that it can well be proud of in this war work and every student and teacher has the satisfaction of knowing that he has contributed his share in the national program.

Nineteen years ago South's girls formed a volleyball team which played against three other schools; North Central and Webber. Ever since that year, our teams have been competing with these three schools for the city-wide volleyball championship.

The girls have lost only one year since they started playing. In 1945 they were co-champs. The team shared championship honors with North. Making a very fine record by being undefeated were the girls of 1942 and '46.

Looking back over twenty-five years of sports activities we decided to recall the championship years of South. Soccer championships were taken in 1923, 1925, 1926, 1928, 1929, 1932, 1933, 1941, 1943 and 1944. Basketball championships were won in 1922, 1923, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944.

Baseball championships were taken in 1923, 1943 and 1945.

Track meets were won by the seventh grade in 1927 and 1928, and by ninth grade heavyweights in 1927.

The high lights of the past twenty-five years have been reviewed and show that in peace and in war South School continues to serve and grow in the best traditions of education.

South Speaks of the Past Year

After a long summer vacation once again my lonely halls were flooded with laughter and voices of students renewing friendships and getting acquainted with fellow class-mates.

Soon notices appeared in my daily bulletin that tryouts for volleyball and soccer were in order. My pupils were asked to aid in making Christmas merrier for needy children of Europe. The student body whole-heartedly responded and filled Christmas gift boxes for the Junior Red Cross to send to Europe.

Pupils in colorful costumes representing Hallowe'en paraded across my stage, competing for prizes awarded to the prettiest, funniest, most typical of Hollowe'en, and the most unusual.

Jack Raymon, herptologist, entertained with an interesting talk and a display of snakes. On November 6, my school volleyball team defeated North, clinching the city championship. This year was the second time in my history we had an undefeated team.

Our All School Play, a thrilling three act mystery comedy "The Bogeyman," was presented on the evening of November 22 in my auditorium.

Basketball season soon called out all the boys interested in this sport and our team was soon organized. To raise money for the Junior Red Cross my pupils presented an amateur assembly, the Bargain Bazaar, and a Thanksgiving Dance, going over the top with $400, placing first in the city drive.

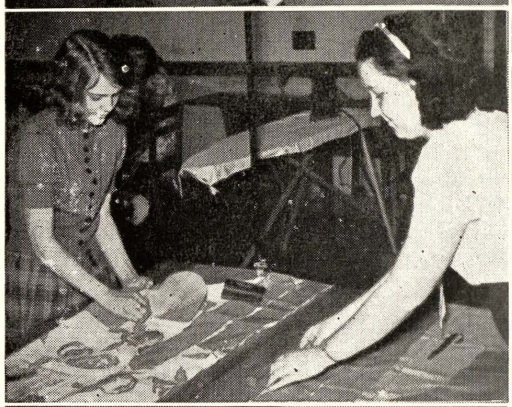
The pupils "watched the birdie," while Mr. Erdman snapped pictures in preparation for the school annual. On December 12, my annual Christmas program was presented in tableux and song by the music department and the dramatic club.

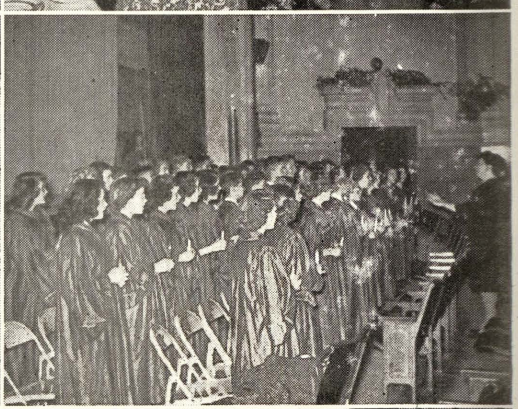
C. Thomas Magrum, magician, and Otto Schacht, vocalist and lecturer, entertained in professional assemblies.

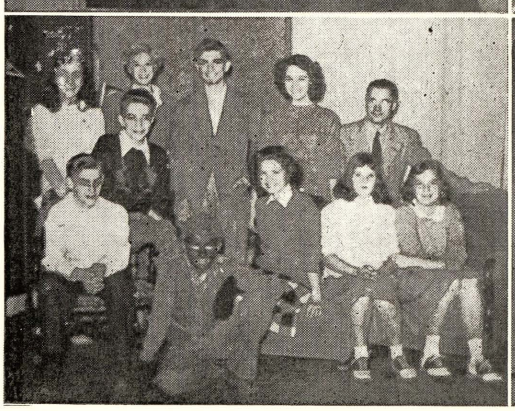
March 28-29 brought the Sixteenth Annual Spendless and Seemore Circus. Everyone kept "A Date With Judy" when the 9A play was presented on April 25. On May 15 all my ninth graders convened in the gyms for a farewell banquet.

Noon and elective classes presented a vocal concert on May 16. Instrumental music classes performed in a concert on June 6.

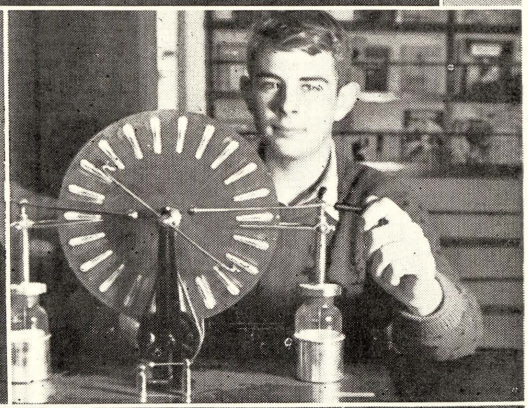
Eighth graders were guests at the 9A Assembly, June 10, concluding a fine school year.

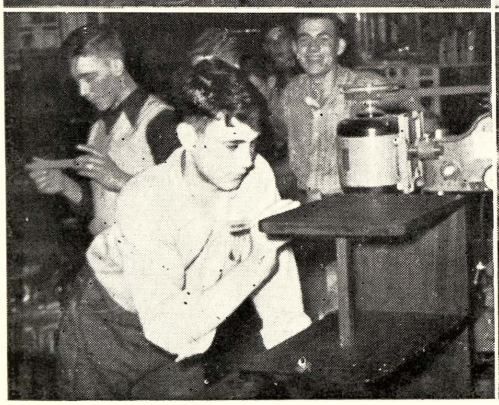






1947 QUEEN and ATTENDANTS





Cheerleaders

Jeanne Galley, Sponsor

"Yea Team! Yea South!" are the yells led by our cheerleaders Marilyn Bain, captain, Janet Broihier, June Farrell, Ruth Paetz, Delorise Martin, Tom Wayt and Jerry Williams.

Attending all the basketball, volleyball, and soccer games, these pupils receive an "S" letter for their service.

Monitors

Katherine Kelley, Sponsor

The 1946-7 Monitor Staff, under the direction of Roland Trogan, has proved to be helpful in promoting safety and good conduct in the halls. Each monitor must serve approximately fifty hours on the staff to receive an "S" pin.

The Science Club

Otto Meyers, Warren Shelley, Sponsors

Every other Thursday night in room 216 the science club meets. The officers are as follows: Jack Arndt, president; Roland Trogan, secretary; Pat Dengler, treasurer. Other member include Bill Meloney, Mary Ann Strait, Leila Specht, and Herb Kleekamp. The club did many experiments with static electricity; members also planned an airplane model.

Service Club

Nellie Miner, Sponsor

Service Club members must have twenty hours service in order to receive an "S" pin. Some of the activities are office help, such as running errands, answering the telephone, and recording attendance; assisting in kindergarten, caring for children while mothers attend education meetings; and ushering for school activities. The officers are: president, Jim Martin; vice presidents, Marlene Trier and Ruth Paetz; secretary-treasurer, Joyce Richards. This club also has charge of the Lost and Found.

For the first time the president of the Service Club is a member of the Presidents' Council.

Our Thanks

The editorial staff extends its most sincere thanks to Mr. Otto Meyers of the Science Department for his co-operation in taking and developing the pictures used on the snap shot pages of our book.

Vocal Music Groups

Lillian Giere, Sponsor

Such groups as the Seventh Grade Girls' Glee Club, The Barbershop Quartet, The Boys' Glee Club, and The Madrigal Singers have practiced one noon a week for the past year.

The students are chosen by tryouts and this is completely voluntary service. The Vocal Spring Concert is the main feature that all of the groups work to.

For practicing one noon a week a club member receives a certificate and when he has three certificates he is eligible for an "S" pin. To receive an "S" pin a member must do some outstanding piece of work for the club.

The officers for the Seventh Grade Glee Club include: Beverly Smith, president; Barbara Maul, vice president; Janice Jahns, secretary; Jean Akerley and Barbara Roush; librarians. Other members are: Ann Beaver, Nancy Campbell, Carol Corrigan, Jo Anne Dengler, Mary Guttridge, Ellen Herzog, Sue Hurst, Connie Jaquith, Bonnie Karp, Faith Kolenda, Judy Malzahn, Jo Ann Mayer, Carolyn Moeller, Jean Pettycrew, Jean Pruyne, Judy Rankin, Donna Richard, Esther Rine, Lorraine Schwartzkopp, Lois Scott, Betty Shavrnock, Thomsa Stewart, Marie Teenier, Joan Vigeant, Joan Weitz, Betty Westover, Nancy Boertman, and Sandra Meyer.

Christmas Program

The solemn story of Christmas was told in tableaux and song at our Christmas concert presented at a junior high assembly December 12. This program from the music and dramatic departments was under the joint direction of Miss Giere and Mr. Eynon.

Those taking part in the tableaux included: narator, Sue Toshach; Mary, Nancy Luttenbacher; Joseph, Ruby Neuendorf; angels, Jo Ann Pruyne, Jeanne Ittner; shepherds, Bob Fassezke, John Kurtz, Larry Eynon; wise men, Charles Manske, Dick Vanderveer, and Jim Sherping.

The music for the program presented by the two elective classes and the Seventh Grade Girls' Glee Club consisted of both new and old carols featuring "Joy to the World," "Silent Night," "This Night," "Today There Is a Ringing" by F. Melius Christiansen, "Good News From Heaven" by Peter Tkach, "Legend," a German folk tune, and "Rise Up Shepherd and Follow" arranged by Harvey Loomis.

Richard Crooks played "Gesu Bambino" by Yon for the processional in which all the music groups took part. The elective classes were seated in the front of the auditorium and the Glee Club in the balcony. During the program antiphonal singing took place between the two groups.

The program was opened by Betty Beutler, Barbara Risdon, Sue Schaubel and Marlene Trier singing "Cantique di Noel" by Adam from the stage. "A Christmas Legend" sung by Shelly Dickeson, Tom Hunter, Kay Krueger, Joyce Richard, Jim Saulcy, and Penny Schust closed the program.

These boys are the first Quartet*

Circus, 1947

The sixteenth annual Spendless and Seemore Circus March 28-29 got off to a fine start with the concert band under Mr. Shumate's direction playing the gay melodies "Independentia," "Sheik of Araby," Prestissimo," and "College Boy."

Our opening spec, "The Big Pow Wow," included tribal ceremonies such as buffalo dances and war dances. Mr. Guy crowned as Queen Pat Dice who was followed by her four attendents, Doris Alberts, Marilyn Dittmar, Kay Krueger, and Ruth Paetz. Mr. Guy then turned the program over to Roland Trogan the M.C. for the evening. Once again our good friend Happy Holmes did his famous "table rock".

"Old Fashioned Rhythm," a pupil tap dancing act, included the following girls: Ann Alderton, Sally Baily, Mary Bauer, Janet Broihier, Norma Buddle, Joan Clark, Joan Davis, Elaine Gerow, Pat Leacher, Sybellia Maxfield, Mary Middlebrook, Janet Pabst, Mary Patterson, Joyce Spear, and Loisdel Techentien.

"Snap, Crack and Pop, Whip Crackers" presented Rosemary Wood and Lorraine Avery, with Shirley Brown featured in a solo stunt.

"Blue Skies" a number sung by the Harmonettes was presented with both blue lights and costumes. This act included Carol Hurst, Betty Beutler, Laura Muirhead, Joan Tessin, Barbara Risdon and Marlene Trier.

Elizabeth Rooney, a professional tight wire walker added excitement. The "Roll- a-way Swisheroos" featuring Jack Alexander, did all sorts of tricks on roller skates. The skaters were Sally Balcom, Miriam Bishop, Nancy Boertman, Pat Davis, Lois Davis, Royena Ellithorp, Lorraine Feit, Dora Hartwell, Doris Meyer, Twila Mooney, Joyce Osborn, Sue Schaubel, and Sue Toshach.

Jerry Lake and Bill Sands proved again this year that the hand is quicker than the eye in their act "The Magical Gretonas."

"The Four Flats" featuring South's own Barbershop Quartet sang "You Had A Dream" and for their encore "Down In Mobile." The Quartet consists of Terry Andre, Jack Arndt, Richard Crooks, and Roland Trogan.

The "Ups and Downs" boys on the trampoline were Herb Kutsch, Bill Rooker, Jim Martin, Bob Meier, and Bob Dust.

The "Swinging Senoritas" proved to be very agile and graceful as they preformed on the circular, revolving, swinging ladders. The performers were Charlotte Leddy, Pat Jahns, Norma Buddle, Marilyn Bain, Kathryn Suhan, and Beverly Smith.

To conclude the 1947 circus Terri Koski, "America's Foremost Ladder Artist," performed his stunts of coordination and balance with the free standing ladder.

As the costumes were packed away and the grease paint washed off, everyone was thoroughly satisfied. Despite bad weather which caused us to lose two days of school the week of the circus, the show went on in the best circus tradition. "The King of School Shows" where you "Spendless and Seemore" was "Bigger and Better Than Ever."

Instrumental Concert

To open the instrumental music program presented June 6, the beginning violin class, accompanied by Jean Westover, presented a group of four numbers which included: "Gold and Silver" by Lehar; "Marche Militare" by Wecker; "Andante" Op. 8, No. 6, by Wecker, and "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," English Folk Song.

Following this group, violin solos, "Star Dust," by Hoagy Carmichael, and "Ava Maria," by Shubert, were played by Patricia Dengler, accompanied by Mrs. William Dengler.

The numbers of the string ensemble included: "Chanson Triste," by Tschaikowsky, "Dance-Musette, by Gluck. A violin trio, Patricia Dengler, Joan Tessin and Don Butts, accompanied by Jean Westover, played a "Lullaby" by Brahms. Following this group the concluding number of the ensemble, "Two Guitars," a Gypsy Folk Song, was played.

After intermission, the beginning band took the stage and played "Project," by Bennett, and "Abide with Me" an old hymn. A cornet duet "La Golondrina," was offered by George Bain and Jack Larson, accompanied by Beverly Smith. The beginning band then played "Ambition" by Bennett. A saxophone duet, "Maria, Mari" by Di Capua, was performed by James Kearful and Jo-Anne Gelow and accompanied by Sue Warner. After the duet, the beginning band played "Normal," by Bennett.

Following the second intermission, the first band took the stage and played "Brigadier General," by King. Dave Holland and Bill Rooker featured in a cornet duet, "Friends," by Smith. The concluding numbers of the first band were: "Tea for Two," by Youmans, "The Thunderer," by Sousa.

The entire program was under the direction of Mr. Shumate.

Vocal Music Concert

Under the direction of Miss Giere the vocal noon groups and the elective classes sang at the annual Vocal Spring Concert May 16.

The mixed chorus presented "The Heavens Resound" by Beethoven-Christiansen and "To Thee We Sing" by Bennett-Riegger. "Ah Lovely Meadows," a Czech folk song, and "The Orchestra" by Canon were sung by the Seventh Grade Girls' Chorus. "The Music Box" by Liadov, and "Juba Dance" by Dett were played by Richard Crooks. A soprano-baritone duet, sung by Jim Karpicke and Betty Beutler, was another feature of the program. The Madrigal Singers harmonized "Out of the East She Came" by Cox, and "How Merrily We Live" by Este.

"Rhapsody In Blue by George Gershwin was the piano solo played by Roland Trogan.

"The Night Will Never Stay" by McCarthy and "Beautiful Dreamer" by Stephen Foster were sung by the Seventh Grade Girls' Glee Club with an incidental quartet composed of: Jean Akerley, Sue Hurst, Barbara Roush and Beverly Smith.

South's barbershop quartet, The Four Flats, sang, "I Had a Dream, Dear" and "Margie". Carol Hurst's solo was "Mighty Like a Rose" by Ethelburt Nevin.

The Barbershop Club sang "The Band Played On" and "Bicycle Built for Two".

"Stodola Pumpa" (The Barn Pump), the finale, an old Czech Folk Song, was presented by the entire music group.

9A Play

Our 9A Play, "A Date With Judy," a three-act comedy written by Aleen Leslie, was presented April 25, under the direction of Mr. Eynon.

With the aid of Barbara Winsocket, Judy Foster, a typical teen-ager, plans to "beat the slacks off" Tootsie Whiteman. The girl soliciting the most subscriptions to the Community Relief Fund is to be crowned Queen of the ball and lead the Grand March, and Judy intends to be that girl. Trying to raise money fast, Judy and Barbara enter several contests; the results are amazing. Instead of Mrs. Foster's winning cash, she receives merchandise—24 bottles of "Glint-O, The Hair Dye For Lively Ladies." "The Most Kissable Lips" is the title given to Mr. Foster. To add to this disaster, Mrs. Foster becomes ill, and Mrs. Schlutzhammer is to deliver Mrs. Foster's speech to the P.T.A.

After trying her hand at writing, Judy contrives a true cofession story entitled "I Am a Bigamist," or "What Became of My Last Two Husbands." Unfortunately the speeches get switched and Mrs. Foster is asked to resign from the P.T.A.

After much confusion about Oogie taking Judy to the dance, everything works out fine and Judy is crowned Queen of the Ball. The cast is as follows:

All School Play

This year's All School Play, "Bogeyman," was packed with comedy, mystery, and suspense. The plot centers on Ez Dixon whose father founded the college that bears his name. Ez owns a rambling old house situated on a hill overlooking the campus. In spite of weird stories about the mansion, Ez and his pal Lanny make a try at living there. Charlie, an old negro, exchanges small services for a room in the basement.

Intending to buy the mansion, the Ogema Gamma sorority is in for a big surprise when the boys plan to scare the wits out of the girls and the housemother, because Ez does not want to be pestered by the persistent sorority committee. There are many angles that the boys could not have possibly forseen, but eventually everything works out fine. The cast is as follows:

Ez Dixon ..... Jerry Lake
"Flunky" Smith ..... Roland Trogan
Peg Howard ..... Marcia Mitts
Mrs. Whipple ..... Ruth Paetz
Libby Green ..... Sally Ippel
Vicky Green ..... Judy Johnson
Lanny Harper ..... Terry Andre

VOLLEYBALL TEAM, 1946

Girls' Sports

Our 1946 girls' volleyball team won every game played. The most difficult competition the team encountered was that of North's team. South played against North for championship, pulled through with scores, first game, 15-6, second, 15-9. Parents were guests at our championship game here with North.

The first game of the season was played here with Webber, Oct. 8, with the scoreboard reading 15-0 and 15-10.

In closing the season, the girls won their last game at Central in seventeen minutes. It resulted in a 15-0 and 15-1 victory.

Eighteen players made up our first team. The second team consisted of Barbara Risdon, Donna Hathaway, Sue Toshach, Betty Beutler, Mavis Burns, Sue Schaubel, Marilyn Bain, Lorraine Schultz, Dorothy Nellett, Laura Muirhead, Sharon Flynn, Donna Lamroux, Nancy Lee Haar, Elaine Schneider, Rosemary Dean, Jane Lee, Helen Weisheim, Donna Fuller, Barbara Waldie, Eva Weaver.

All practice games were officiated by the managers, Betty Lou Hartle and Sue Willits.

Intramural

Every seventh, eighth and ninth grade girl at South has had the opportunity to participate in homeroom tournaments. The tournaments consist of volleyball, basketball, and baseball and the games are played during the noon hour. The volleyball championships were won by the following: Ninth grade: 9B106, captain Marilyn Campbell. Eighth grade: 8B203, captain, Donna Lamroux. Seventh grade: 7B212 captain, Donna Richards.

The basketball tournament concluded with these champions:
Ninth grade: 9A110a, captain, Betty Harshman. Eighth grade: 8A206, captain, Sue Bolger. Seventh grade: 7A207, captain, Barbara Fitch.

The scores were ninth grade, 20-12, the eighth grade, 13-4 and the seventh grade, 18-6.

Boys' Sports

In South's 1946 soccer season the boys won one and tied one in six games played. The following boys participated in the soccer games: Bob Carey, Norman Hill, Herman Soper, Marvin Berry, Forrest Hill, Dick Martin, Rudy Schmitt, Keith Tibbitts, Jack Luxton, Jim Brush, Herb Kutsch, David Holland, Paul Abler, David Vance, Pete Young, Roy Hoeppner, Harold Jahnke, Glen Boivin, Charles Parks, John Watt, Don Pietz, Andy Robertson, Bob Dust, Vern Hawes, and Don Simon.

First places in the intramural soccer tournament were won by the 9A-204, 8A-206, and the 7A-208. Second place honors went to the 9A-106, 8A-202, and the 7A-200. While the 9A-108a and 9A-209 tied for third place in the ninth grade, the 8A-201 and the 7A-107 captured third place in their division.

"It's a mystery! Can you solve it?" Coach Noble wants an answer. "Why," he asks, "does a team with plenty of height, speed and ability, like ours, end up with a record of two wins and seven losses? Offensively the team was better than average but mechanical errors of defense was the downfall. That's the only answer we can think of, what about you?"

"We had a fair season but it could have been better. The record of five wins and four losses netted third place for South's juniors," commented Mr. Byron. "We expect to have a better season next year if the boys will practice this summer."

The Red Cross

Leading all the schools in the Red Cross annual membership campaign was our own South. Every student contributed to the drive which resulted in a grand total of $468.72. The Red Cross representative for this year was Pat Dengler, who attended a three day Red Cross camp this summer. Teacher sponsors this year were Miss Sandhoff and Miss Schoenow.

S. I. S.'s Bargain Bazaar was presented November 13 in the little auditorium and resulted in a profit of $127.22. Clothing, books, puzzles, games and shoes were among the many articles contributed by the homerooms and the elementary grades. Each article was marked with the homeroom number and the profit recived from these articles was credited to that room. The 9A106 led all the rooms with $10.65. The committee in charge included Pat Dengler, Janet Broiher, and Dick Vanderveer.

A student talent assembly was presented November 14 to raise additional funds.

To wind up the membership campaign, a dance, "The Turkey Trot," was given. The music was furnished by the Arthur Hill Dance Band.

The total profits of the Junior Red Cross membership campaign were as follows:

Pupil Contributions	$189.22
S.I.S.'s Bargain Bazaar	137.22
Amateur Assembly	96.35
"The Turkey Trot"	42.93
Total	$468.72

Terry Andre was our chosen representative for the Red Cross Speakers Bureau.

The 9A Class Prophecy

Two maids cleaning up after a reunion of South School graduates, May 15, 1967.

A. "Look here, May! Here's the registration book left here from the reunion of the South School graduates of 1947. Let's take a peek. Ah! Reuben Ewert, engineer. What do you know?"

B. "Oh yes. I knew that. He's world renowned."

A. "Let me read you some more. Don Whiting, president of General Motors' plants. Jeanne Ittner, Michigan's champion speed typist, and Secretary of the World Conference. Dick Pierce, Old Mummer on the radio. I thought he was going to be a lawyer. Jim Svetic, thin man in Ringling Brothers Circus. Arthur Ebach, athlete—"

B. "You know they say he finally won a race after trying for 25 years. He won it sitting down in a wheel chair."

A. "Roland Trogan, pianist."

B. "Say, do you know that he kept the auidence spellbound when he played "Polonaise" at Carnegie Hall last week?"

A. "Ken Murphy, Champion Lightweight Wrestler of the World.

A. "Marge Pocquette, housewife, mother of two daughters. Louis Raymond, third baseman for Red Sox. Jack Munroe, baseball champion."

B. "He should be. He probably inherits the sprinting ability from his dad. You know he was always rounding up something or somebody."

A. "Audrey Stavely, doctor of medicine. Lorry Burrows, architect."

B. "Say, he's the one who designed that wonderful home for Shirley Frick who married a man by the name of Cole."

A. "Barbara Richter, doctor, psychiatry specialist. Elaine Schneider nurse at Saginaw General. Catherine McBain, manager of a baseball team of her own, mother of nine sons. Bob Druelle, league baseball player, specializing in homeruns. Marlene Trier, manager of a cosmetic shop in California. Jack Luxton, veterinarian, owner of the new Luxton Veterinary Hospital. Nancy Spence, dishwasher on the Queen Elizabeth. Dennis York, traveling cigar salesman. Herman Soper, dealer in sporting goods business. Richard Wolfe, director of a snake ranch."

B. "Oh, I know who he is. He's the one who has been flying around here on his new motorcycle."

A. "Franklin Browning, Professor of English in Stephens College for Women.Charlene Hoag, Whistler on WJJC. Clyde Kapka, bull fighter and thrower. Roger Heyn, balloon seller at Ringling Brothers. Sally Schmidt, tight rope walker. Donald Butts, President—Well, well, who would ever have thought that Donald would become President of these United States! Yvonne Bauknecht. Oh, she's married to a millionaire. Well of all things! Ruth Bornheimer, dog catcher. Eleanor Browning, nurse. Cozette Coleman, Chinese missionary. Ardis Goslin, foreign correspondent. Dale Johnson, professor of English."

Sixth Grade, Room 262

During this past year our room has done many interesting things.

We have written series of stories about a family of ducks and have made it into a book. In the family there are Mother and Father Duck, and the duckling boys Alvin, Calvin and Malvin. Their grandmother also lives with them. The family has many adventures.

Our room has been quite busy playing tonettes. We can read notes and play many songs. We play songs together and we play duets and solos.

We have enjoyed reading this year's Newberry prize book "Strawberry Girl." We have acted out our favorite parts. We gave some parts over the radio.

Our room has enjoyed doing Red Cross work. We like making nut cups, tray covers, and napkin rings.

Fifth and Sixth Grades, Room 256

We did many things for the Junior Red Cross. At Christmas time we made fifty tray covers and fifty decorated paper napkins holders. For Washington's birthday our room decorated fifty nut cups. At Easter we made twenty-five favors.

Gladys Weiss, of our room, won the building speech contest by her Red Cross talk and attended a luncheon at the Bancroft Hotel where some of the speeches were given over the radio.

At Christmas time, the fifth and sixth graders dramatized two chapters of the "Bird's Christmas Carol."

Fifth Grade, Room, 260

This year we had many interesting topics in our science groups. The study of prehistoric animals was especially interesting. Tom's committee made several large friezes of them. Then after studying electro-magnets we made a telegraph set.

We made many finger-paintings which we framed.

Dick and Jim were co-editors of our room's newspaper to which all of us contributed.

During the year in social studies we liked best our studies of Mexico and its people, cotton, and Michigan.

Fourth Grade, Room 252

In social studies we learned about the Netherlands, Switzerland, (cold lands, including Admiral Byrd's expedition to antarctica) Norway, the jungle, and Desert lands. Our most interesting work in science was the study of rubber, fish, reptiles, mammals. and birds. We have an aquarium and a terrarium in our room. Children brought a hornet's nest and cacoons. For the Red Cross we wrote

Third and Fourth Grades, Room 254

While the third grade was studying pioneers,we dipped and molded candles.

In arithmetic, we learned all the kinds of addition and subtraction problems, and learned how to multiply and divide.

In the fourth grade we made an Eskimo frieze which showed Eskimos out in kayaks harpooning walruses, a dogteam pulling a sledge across the snow, and some igloos with some Eskimo children beside them.

Third Grade, Room 258

The third grade room 258 taught by Miss Fredenberger have had a good time this year. They have learned to carry in addition, borrow in subtraction, and multiply.

They learned to write friendly letters and wrote to pupils in Illinois.

This spring a luna moth hatched out of a cocoon that had been kept in the room since fall.

Second Grade, Room 158

We read for information. We worked for safety. We have gone to the County Jail, Centarl Fire Station, and to the greenhouse. Besides these we studied boats, cars, trains, other ways to travel, and the postoffice. We wove belts for our mothers.

First and Second Grade, Room 162

We began the year by studying the home, the interdependence of the city dweller and the farmer Later we constructed a large home consisting of a living room, bedroom and kitchen.

We visited the city market and studied foods.

We had fun watching the yeast plants grow and divide through the microscrope. The bread that we made was good.

We studied the Post Office, visited a real one, and built one of our own.

First Grade, Room 152

We have learned to do many new things this year. Now we can read and write and spell. We studied the farm, city helpers and how people travel. Now we are studying the home. We have learned how to weave rugs and bags. The girls sewed aprons and the boys made bird houses.

First Grade, Room 160

The greatest event of our year was the visit we made to Mr. Bartley's Bakery. He showed us how to make cookies and best of all each person cut out a cookie for himself, put his name on it and after it baked had his own to eat.

We have learned to do many things. We now know how to read books, write stories, and spell words.

speeches and made many greeting cards for veterans in hospitals.

Sis Snooper

Spring is here and all about,
Love's in bloom without a doubt.
So once again I've come to say,
Cupid's still working every day.
Here's a pair we hope won't part,
John Adams and Mary Hart.
Some lovers give people a pain,
But not Bob Miller and Marilyn Bain.
Now for one that's really a doozy,
It's Bob Carey and Jean Ann Buse.
If Barbara Roush is ever held for ransom,
You'll know who's holding her, (Jack Hanson).
For a romance that's really nice,
It's Keith Tibbits and Patty Dice.
Here's a couple that really show us.
But of course you know, it's Roland and Lois.
Another one that's made a hit
Barbara Fobear and Rudy Schmitt.
One you wouldn't want to miss
Is Bill Cross and Marcia Mitts.
Here's an idea that's really super,
Sally Ippel and Jack Cooper.
For a couple that's full of fun,
Try Ruth Paetz and Jack Luxton.
(Or Judy Johnson and Pete Young)
Past, present and future tense
Are Mary Lee Tamplin and Edwin Spence
For a romance that's really merry
It's Don Simon and Beverly Cherry.
Here's one that rings the bell,
Bob Dust and Sally Waddell.
That's all the news, the end is here
So toodle-do until next year,
